Cracking the Seal With the looming day of federal estate tax return filing, NACA is pleased to present the inaugural edition of the NACA Research Report series: Cracking the Seal. In this first report, we endeavor to “crack the seal” on the federal estate tax. If you have not done so already, you should make sure that you have your copy of the 2013-2014 Form 706 estate tax return (and all of its attachments) filed for this year. If you do not have Form 706 for 2013-2014, you should have it filed by the end of December. If you did not take this step then you may want to contact your estate tax counsel to see if they were able to facilitate this step. Introduction At NACA, we are pleased to release the 2013-2014 NACA Research Report, our inaugural publication in the series. In this report, NACA provides some general information about the federal estate tax as well as the NACA Research methodology and assumptions. Given our familiarity with the various provisions of the Code, many of our assumptions are based on the guidance that has been issued by the IRS. However, we also conduct our own research to support our assumptions. It is important to note that the information provided herein is based on the understanding of the Code as set forth by the IRS in the various regulations and guidance. This analysis cannot be used to determine how the estate should be taxed or
